Going Deutch

1 Cube Trike Family Hybrid 750 £6,499

Cube's two-child-carrying e-trike is now available. It's powered by an 85Nm Bosch Cargo Line motor and a 750Wh battery, and the front half tilts for more bike-like handling. cube.eu

2 Microshift Sword £372+

The new 10-speed groupset has concealed-cable levers but is compatible with Advent X so owners of that might only need a £90 shifter. It's 1x (11-48 cassette) or 2x (48-31/46-29 chainset, 11-38 cassette). microshift.com

3 Vecnum FreeQuence Suspension Stem £299

Intended for gravel, touring and road bikes, this parallelogram suspension stem promises 30mm of adjustable travel. It comes in 90, 105 and 120mm lengths. vecnum.com

4 Shimano GF800 GTX £219

Shimano's new winter boots for flat pedals. They have a Gore-Tex 'ankle sock' liner to keep out the wet, and they fasten with a Boa Fit System L6 dial. Sizes: 38-48. shimano.com

5 Restrap Light Mount £6.99

The neat thing about Restrap's little light mount, which screws into an M5 eyelet on a fork or seatstay, is that it can also tighten a Hollowtech II left-hand crank. restrap.com

6 Shimano GRX RX820 £1,350

Shimano's gravel groupset has now gained a 12-speed version. There are two 1x options, with 10-45 or 10-51 cassettes, and a 2x setup with a 48-31 chainset and 11-34 or 11-36 cassettes. shimano.com

7 Continental Grand Prix 5000 AS TR £84.95+

There's now a tougher, grippier 'all-season' version of Continental's popular, tubeless-ready GP5000. Sizes are 25-, 28-, 32- and 35-622. I'll be testing some this winter. conti-tyres.co.uk
