

PRIZE DRAW

WIN!

One of four pairs of Ortlieb Back Roller Classic panniers

Cycle magazine has long been a fan of Ortlieb panniers. 'Superb', 'completely waterproof' we said when we last featured them (Dec 09/Jan '10 issue). And it's not just us who like them. In our Going the Distance feature on round-the-world record breakers this issue, it is telling that all three cyclists used Ortlieb panniers. Focusing on Mark Beaumont, the article notes: 'The Ortlieb panniers resisted pretty much everything, even south-east Asia in monsoon season. He prefers the Classic for their simpler fastening.'

Thanks to Ortlieb we've got four pairs of Back Roller Classic panniers to give away free. They're normally £103.50 per pair, which given their durability and imperviousness to bad weather is good value. These welded-seam, roll-top bags are 100% waterproof and their PVC-coated fabric is tough.

Back Roller Classics have a capacity of 40-litres per pair. Fitting and removal is quick and easy, thanks to Ortlieb's one-handed QL mounting system. Each pannier has Scotchlite reflective patches for nighttime security, plus a shoulder strap for carriage off the bike.

Ortlieb produces a vast range of cycling luggage, including a new rucksack/pannier called the Vario that we'll be reviewing next issue. For more information about Ortlieb products, visit www.ortlieb.de.
