

PRIZE
DRAW

WIN £375 worth of Ana Nichoola cycle clothing

Cycle clothing tends to be designed by men for men. Ana Nichoola, headed by multi-discipline racing cyclist Anna Glowinski, is different: it's specifically made for female cycling enthusiasts who want clothing that fits properly, performs well, and looks good.

Ana Nichoola's five-piece autumn/winter range was launched with a 'style your ride' campaign last year. The Snow-Cat Jacket (£159.99) is a wind blocking, breathable, stretch fabric top with reflective piping, plenty of pockets, and a flattering, ergonomic cut. Her Pleasure Arm Warmers (£28.99) are sized to fit women's narrower arms, while the fleecy Smuggler Neck Warmer (£18.50) is long enough to tuck deeply under your jersey and yet pull up over your nose. Sorbet Gloves (£37.99) also keep out winter draughts, thanks to extra long cuffs that will fit over jersey cuffs. V Ear Warmers (£16.99) fit underneath a helmet and help your forehead and ears stay snug without overheating.

Thanks to Ana Nichoola, we've got two vouchers to give away to CTC members, one for £250 and one for £125. Winners can pick any selection of items up to those values from the autumn/winter range or the forthcoming spring/summer range.
