EDITOR DAN JOYCE PREVIEWS A SELECTION OF NEW CYCLING PRODUCTS AVAILABLE IN THE SHOPS OR COMING SOON

1 BLUBEL

Connects to your pocketed smartphone via Bluetooth to give turn-by-turn illuminated signals on the bell. At least, it will if it meets its Kickstarter goal... blubel.co

2 STEPS EBULLITT

The Bullitt we reviewed (Dec 14/Jan 15) is now available with Shimano STEPS electric assistance, making bicycle cargo-hauling practical for all. From €4,261.

3 BASTION CYCLES

Those carbon tubes aren't bonded into any old titanium lugs: they're 3D-printed titanium lugs. Each lug can be unique, enabling custom frame design.

4 SILCA TUBELESS VALVES

Most tubeless tyre valves are meant for mountain bike rims and are too short even for 30mm road rims. These Silca ones come in 44, 60, 80 and 100mm lengths. silca.cc

5 SHAND DROVE

I saw this drop-bar off-road tourer at Bespoked. Modular dropouts allow almost any gearing option – even a belt drive. Frame from £980, custom fitting an extra £150. shandcycles.com

6 SRAM XX1 EAGLE

12-speed has landed – in the form of a single-chainring groupset that costs almost £1,200 and comes with a 10-50t (!) cassette. Where will it end? sram.com

7 UPSO BAGS

Made by Carradice from tough-as-nails recycled lorry tarpaulin, Upso bags come in a wide variety of designs. Pictured is a Ferrybridge bag for a Brompton (£80).
