New free wills service

In partnership with octopuslegacy

It's Free Wills Month in October. To mark this campaign, from September onwards Cycling UK members have been able to access our new free will service through our partnership with Octopus Legacy. The service gives you the chance to write or update a simple will for free – online, by phone, or now face-to-face with a local solicitor.

Writing a will is often something people don't want to think about or leave to one side. But planning your will is one of the most meaningful ways you can help shape the future and provide for your loved ones. It's also essential to ensuring that your wishes are made clear.

Throughout October dozens of charities will be taking part in Free Wills Month, which happens twice a year (March and October). It traditionally provides people aged 55 and over with the opportunity to get their will written or updated for free with help from a specialist expert. This year, to celebrate our new and expanded free will service, we are offering a free will to everyone, no matter your age.

Writing your will is an important way to protect what matters most to you and give you peace of mind for the future. Many members also choose to include a gift to Cycling UK in their will, helping ensure we can continue to stand up for cyclists for generations to come – although there's absolutely no obligation. Whether you want to provide for loved ones, support the causes you care about or simply have peace of mind, this service helps you do it with confidence – at no cost to you.
