

MEMBER BENEFITS

Financial advice from M&G

As a Cycling UK member, you can book a free, no-obligation call with a qualified financial adviser from M&G Advice. They will give you a personal recommendation. A charge will only be payable if you proceed with this recommendation. It's a straightforward way to talk through your goals, explore your choices and get a clearer picture of your pensions, savings or retirement plans. M&G Advice offers a restricted advice service. Book your free consultation today. cyclinguk.org/mg-advice

Insurance you can count on

Almost one in five of you – 18% – recently told us that you had no cycle insurance, while more than half believed that your bike was already covered by your home insurance. But is that cover enough? Home and specialist cycle insurance can be very different.

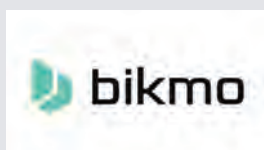

Adding a bike to a home policy may seem like the easiest option, yet the small print can leave you vulnerable. Standard home policies often have a lower cap on bike values – sometimes as little as £500 – and may exclude accidental damage, something that accounts for 42% of all Bikmo's claims. Expensive riding kit and accessories aren't included in many home policies, and some won't cover your bike if it's away from home and not in your possession for more than a few hours – even if it's locked.

To help you navigate these pitfalls, Cycling UK's partner, Bikmo, has put together a comprehensive home-versus-cycle insurance guide, explaining exactly what to look out for.

As a Cycling UK member, you're already one step ahead with free third-party liability cover from Bikmo. You can further bolster your protection with an exclusive 10% discount (terms and conditions apply) on Bikmo's comprehensive specialist cover. This provides 24/7 worldwide protection, coverage for your clothing, and a zero excess option when replacing through retail partners.

To read the full guide and get a quote, visit: bikmo.com/uk/cyclinguk/homevscycle/.

Get kitted out with Kalas

Spring is the perfect time to refresh your cycling wardrobe. Cycling UK's kit partner, Kalas, combines premium fabrics, technical performance and clean design for comfort on every ride. This season, explore the Passion Z6 collection, which is made with lightweight, breathable materials and an aerodynamic fit – ideal for everything from faster road rides to relaxed spins. Cycling UK members get 15% off Kalas apparel and accessories, and a portion of every purchase helps support Cycling UK's work.

cyclinguk.org/kalas-kit