

Shop window

New and upcoming products that have caught the editor's eye

Save money
Don't forget your exclusive member savings, with up to 50% off cycling products and services. Visit cyclinguk.org/member-benefits

01

Busch+Müller TURNTEC T2 £109

Bicycle indicators are an invention that keeps winking in and out of existence. But Busch+Müller has a good pedigree and its bar-end blinkers look as good as indicators are likely to get. bumm.de/en/

02

Whyte Secta 24 £599

Aimed at riders aged 7-9 (120-140cm tall), Whyte's Secta 24 is the smallest version of its progressive hardtail. The bike has a lightweight aluminium fork and 67°/75.5° head and seat tube angles. whytebikes.com

06

Islabikes Rosetta £3,299.99 (tbc)

If you were at Bespoked in April, you'll have seen Isla Rowntree's new flat-bar, mid-step gravel bike. It's designed for real-world riding like Cycling UK's Adventure Series. islabikes.co.uk

03

Topeak Zi:Rak £89.99

Lightweight racks for road and gravel bikes are becoming a category of their own. Topeak's fits tyres up to 55-622 and attaches to eyelets, seatstays or a thru-axle. topeak.com

04

Vittoria Corsa Pro Control £89.99

While mountain bike tyres are getting taller, road tyres keep getting wider. Vittoria has launched two new sizes of its all-weather road tyre, the Corsa Pro Control: 38mm and 42mm. vittoria.com

05

Terravail Camrock 32x2.4in $95 (£tbc)

In a sign of the times, Terravail has announced a 32in version of its Camrock XC tyre, which also comes in 29x2.2 and 29x2.4in. A 32/29 Camrock 'mullet' would fit some rigid-fork 29ers. terravail.com

07

SteerStopper £150 approx

Also at Bespoked and new to me was the SteerStopper, a front-wheel stabiliser for tourers to keep them upright when parked. Available in the UK from SJS Cycles and Stanforth Bikes (pictured). steerstopper.com

